

Casa Jovenes Del Rey (boys' home in Piedras Negras) is open, alive and well. Bob, Cindy and I pose with the boys.

In the early years of this ministry, my late husband Bob King Sr. saw the need for medical clinics and he explored several means for establishing that ministry in addition to children's homes. The plan did not succeed then because, I believe, it wasn't time. But now it is!

The staff has been forged in the fire of children's home ministry for thirty years. They are faithful and dedicated to ministry to the Lord. They love and get along with each other, working as a team. They are bright people and evangelism is what they are all about. The added tools of medicine open the doors wider. The country of Mexico is open to naturopathic medicine. We do not practice any form of medicine which conflicts with our basic beliefs of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Bobby and I had lunch with Rosita and her fiancé Adolfo. Adolfo has a ministry to children in Piedras Negras. We are partnering with him.

Casa Del Rey is home to Felipe and Angelica and their two boys Felipe Isaac and Leo. Priscy will likely always be with us. Erika, Claudia, Maggie, Gaby and Mena do not have a place to go. This is their home. We are open to young women like these.

Even though we will use natural herbal remedies, medicine is still expensive. Since the major part of the medical missionary's focus will be toward helping those who cannot afford medicine, the financial burden will likely be huge. When we open a clinic, we will charge on a sliding scale since it is good for the patient to be responsible to help himself.

Casa Jovenes Del Rey boys help Adolfo in his ministry to children in Piedras Negras.

A word about our Website: I know it needs updating but I do not want to take it all the way down because many partners use the PayPal monthly. Please bear with us until we can get it fixed. Thank you!

We are taking hold of the promises of God and walking through these open doors because we believe God is calling us to do this. I invite you to grab hold of our hands and join us in intercessory prayer and with financial strength as we follow the Lord in fulfilling His divine call to preach the Word. You and I are laborers together with Him!

My Mother always said, "There's more than one way to skin a cat!" Now I know what she meant. If we cannot preach the Gospel one way, we'll take it to another level! We will preach the Gospel! The Gospel must be preached to every nation, tribe and tongue by every available means. Bless the Lord!

We take courage that, even in these uncertain times, "Christ's explosive power infuses (us) to conquer every difficulty!" (Phil. 4:19 TPT) Bless The Lord! Thank you for your love for the Lord Jesus and your faithfulness with prayers and offerings so that this work will continue. God bless you!

Gratefully in Him,
